UNEMPLOYED GROUP ATTEND

Opposition Leader Compares Change of Liberal Proposals on Tariff to the Great Betrayal

REGINA, Sask., June 10.—Facing the second audience of his Dominion election campaign, Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., here tonight spoke before an audience massed in the Armories. The main floor of the building was packed, the upper balconies were filled, the words of the Conservative Leader were carried by radio through the three Prairie Provinces. An estimated number of 1,500 unemployed men wearing "white badges" in the building directed the severe criticism of the Opposition Leader on the Government's policy of unemployment and the tariff.

VOICE OF MR. MOORE?
"Mr. Dunning, the new Minister of Finance," said Mr. Bennett, "was put in the House to speak the budget of W. H. Moore, of the old Mackenzie & Mann firm. Mr. Dunning did it with precision; took the report that Mr. Moore prepared and read it to the House of Commons. It was your loss and mine. Unemployment, they say, there is no unemployment. We will cure these problems very simply, they said. It is very simple. What we will do, they said, we will put a tariff on. A high tariff. What? A high tariff from the Liberals; surely not. Why? Surely, they would not betray their old party that way? Surely there is something wrong. Oh no! I hear it. It is written a tariff on iron and steel. Poor Mr. Moore, who could not stay in Borden's Government because the tariff was high, now finds himself happy with a tariff three or four times as high, and is silent in both languages."

Fires Ravage Forests Around Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Ont., June 10.—More and more equipment was sent today into blazing regions east, north and west of Port Arthur for use of fire rangers striving to control numerous forest fires. Forestry officials marked the situation as still acute. Warm winds and continued dry weather added to the hazard. Fires were reported to have broken out anew in several low-lying areas, where fire rangers a few days ago and were temporarily quieted by rain.

Five-Cornered Fight Forecast In Glasgow Seat

(Canadian Press Cable)
GLASGOW, Scotland, June 10.—There will be no Liberal candidate in the by-election in the 2nd constituency division of Glasgow, to be held June 26. Mrs. R. Fitzgerald, who was regarded as a prospective candidate, has declined to contest the seat. The seat is vacant as a result of the death of the former Labor member, Right Hon. John Wheatley. Even without the Liberals, however, there will likely be five candidates in the field, a Conservative, a Laborite, two Communists and a Scottish Nationalist.

WALLS DAMAGED IN CONFLAGRATION

VANCOUVER, B.C., June 10.—Quiet descended upon the usually busy downtown area of the city for a short time early this afternoon, when fire broke out in several oil switches at the B.C. Electric Railway power house on Main Street. Street cars were stopped, elevators remained between floors, and all lighting was cut off in the downtown area as a result.

The fire started in a bank of oil switches situated on the gallery of the substation. Flames did considerable damage to the walls of the building before they were brought under control of the fire department.

Russians Think War Inevitable

MOSCOW, U.S.S.R., June 10.—News from both Poland and Rumania is disturbing the Soviet Union, and it is fair to say that there is more belligerence in the air today than in many months past.

There is a feeling among many Russians that war with the capitalist powers is inevitable sooner or later. A member of the Government expressed himself to The Chicago Daily News correspondent as follows:

"We are not militaristic, but we are not Tolstoys to turn the other cheek after being slapped. The delicate position of Russia among the nations undoubtedly increases her sensitiveness and her unwillingness to accept what the people may look upon as a political insult."

DOUGLAS FIRTH IS WINNER OF SILVER SHIELD

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Douglas Firth, a promising young Victoria singer, won the Silver Challenge Shield in the boys' solo class, in the British Columbia Musical Festival, here tonight.

Hansen, retaining the "Burns" Silver Challenge Cup, while Tecumseh School, conducted by Miss A. I. Kerr, was awarded the Challenge Shield for a particularly outstanding performance.

R.C.M.P. Fail to Salute Lord Mayor At Mansion House

(Canadian Press Cable)
LONDON, June 10.—Curiously fanned by the famed record of the men of the Mounted Police, Londoners turned out in thousands when a picked detachment from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police today rode through London from the Mansion House to Knightsbridge. The Canadians have arrived to take part in the great international horse show at Olympia. The history of the Empire's most romantic police force has been given plenty of publicity in connection with the visit of an inspector and twenty constables.

But a curious incident marred the little ceremony arranged for the R.C.M.P. group's arrival in the city of London. The Lord Mayor, attended by the city sword-bearer and the city mace-bearer, was on hand on the balcony of the Mansion House, together with the Lady Mayoress and the Chief Commissioner of the Police of the city. But the Canadians rode past, obviously unaware of the presence of the party on the balcony, while the Lord Mayor looked on in bewilderment.

Major Dann, in charge of the party, was interviewed afterwards, and expressed surprise as great as that of the Lord Mayor. "I received no warning that we were approaching the Lord Mayor and so we rode on," he said, "taking no notice of anything. It goes without saying that had I been aware of the presence of the Lord Mayor I should have given the necessary orders."

"I am tremendously sorry the blunder occurred. I have been wondering where the Mansion House could be. I still don't know where it is."

Fails in Attempt To Establish New Endurance Record

LE BOURGET, France, June 10.—Madame Margot Basile, a pretty French aerial acrobat, today failed in an attempt to establish a new world record for an endurance flight.

Madame Basile, who took off from Le Bourget at 8:18 last night, was forced to land at 6:45 p.m. because of a lack of gasoline. She had been in the air twenty-two hours and twenty-seven minutes.

Second Battalion Of 16th Canadian Scottish Planned

ARRANGEMENTS are well under way for the formation of a second battalion of the 16th Canadian Scottish Regiment, with headquarters in Victoria. The activities this year will be for the greater part limited to the posting of officers and localizing companies of this new battalion. The new unit will be composed of Up-Island men, and is being formed to take care of the many young men who are anxious to join the militia. While no one has been mentioned as commanding officer of the two battalions, it is the belief in local militia circles that Colonel D. B. Martyn, D.S.O., will be named for this important post.

New Deep-Sea Diving Mark Now Claimed

HAMILTON, Bermuda, June 10.—A new deep-sea diving record was claimed today for William Beebe, of the new Zoological Society's oceanographic expedition, who descended 800 feet beneath the sea's surface in a steel ball with fused quartz windows. The lowest depth previously attained was 325 feet.

The hollow steel sphere, in which Mr. Beebe made the record-breaking descent, contained an oxygen supply, and was fitted with apparatus for absorbing the exhaled air. The ball was lowered by cable from a tug, and telephone conversations between the diver and the surface were successfully carried on. Fish were readily observed. The expedition hopes to make observations at a depth of one-half mile by means of the apparatus.

Stork Comes To Royalty In Norway

OSLO, Norway, June 10.—All Norway is rejoicing with Crown Prince Olav and Princess Martha, who became parents of a baby girl in the royal palace yesterday. It was the first child to come to the Norwegian reigning family in centuries.

It being a legal holiday yesterday, the royal couple were in the newspapers, and special editions announcing the happy event were hastily printed and given away. Crowds immediately gathered before the palace, and when soon the news became general, the populace decided to give itself up to celebration. Olav and Martha have been living at the royal palace since their suburban home was burned, May 20.

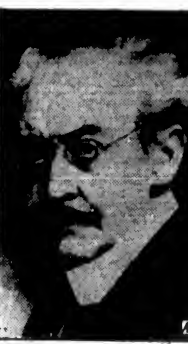

Stately Buildings to Be Illuminated Nightly at Dusk in Tourist Season

DURING the height of the tourist season in this city the Parliament Buildings will be illuminated each evening until midnight. This is the announcement made by Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works, yesterday, following his return to the capital after a prolonged inspection of the work now in progress upon the roads of the province.

Mr. Loughheed feels that in the capital city of the province the Government should present something distinctive in the way of brightening up the Provincial Buildings during the stay of the thousands of tourists who come to Victoria during the next few weeks. In this more he has the hearty endorsement of the Prime Minister, Hon. S. F. Timmins, who likewise is of the opinion that the Government may well co-operate in the making of the capital city attractive to visitors.

Mr. Loughheed has given instructions, therefore, to have the build-

WAS VOLUMINOUS IN HIS WRITINGS

HEIDELBERG, Germany, June 10.—Adolf von Harnack, German theologian, died today after a fortnight's illness.

As leader of the modern German school of theology, which aims at reconciling science with the Bible, Dr. Adolf von Harnack achieved wide prominence in the German world of learning.

While still in his teens, Dr. von Harnack began the study of theology at Dorpat, where he was born May 7, 1851. At twenty-three he was a lecturer at the University of Leipzig, and even then his discourses on agnosticism and the apocalypse attracted considerable attention.

He accepted a call as professor at Glessen University when he was twenty-eight, and in the capacity of professor of church history held chairs at Marburg and Berlin. While at the latter he was made a member of the Prussian Academy of Sciences.

DIRECTOR OF LIBRARY
In 1906, Professor von Harnack was appointed director of the Royal Library in Berlin, a post he held for fifteen years. Early in 1914 he was elevated by his friend, ex-Kaiser William, to the Prussian hereditary nobility with the style of "von" and the title of "excellency."

The chief work of Professor von Harnack was "The History of the Christian Dogma" in three large volumes. In that he traced the rise

BUCHAREST, Rumania, June 10.—Reorganization of the army today was accomplished by King Carol II as the first important step in a programme of stabilization of the affairs of Rumania. The young King, who last week astonished the world by turning swiftly from affairs of the heart to those of his native land, today appointed Prince Nikolaus general inspector of the water and land air forces. He appointed Generals Averescu and Pressan field marshals by a special act.

Saanich Arterial Roads Classified By Government

THE classification of the arterial highways in the municipality of Saanich as they affect the East and the West Roads were disposed of in executive council yesterday by the Government. Under this plan Quadra Street, from the city boundary to the point where it merges into the East Saanich Road, and the East Saanich Road to the northern limits of the municipality, is created an arterial highway and as such will fall under the Province in the matter of maintenance. The West Saanich Road from Royal Oak, where it joins the East Road, and extending to the limits of the municipality likewise has been constituted an arterial highway.

MR. WAKATSUKI'S ARRIVAL AWAITED

By R. W. FLEISHER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service)

TOKIO, Japan, June 10.—Local political arguments involving the London Naval Treaty, which temporarily subsided pending the return next week of Mr. Reijiro Wakatsuki, chief Japanese delegate, from London, flared up again today with the announcement that Vice-Admiral Yamanashi, Vice-Minister of the Navy, and Vice-Admiral Sueaigu, Vice-Chief of the Naval General Staff, have been relieved of their positions "at their own request."

On its face, this means little, as these two men continue as members of the Naval General Staff, but actually this move is regarded by many observers as a sign that Yamanashi is blamed because the naval staff feels that the London pact was disadvantageous to Japan. With Admiral Takarabe, Naval Minister, at London, Yamanashi was acting in his position and outwardly was the principal brains and spokesman of the naval ministry. His resignation is merely another step in that extremely significant argument which has been going on since the London Treaty was signed as to whether the Government or naval experts have the final say about such a pact signed in peace time.

The press is filled with predictions as to the outcome of the controversy. Meanwhile everyone is anxiously awaiting Ex-Premier Wakatsuki's arrival.

BOSTON, June 11.—Eight persons were injured in a collision of the steamer Fairfax, of the Merchants' & Miners' Transportation Company, and a vessel tentatively identified as the steamship Greedian off Beattune last night.

Information as to the number of injured was received at the office of the Merchants' & Miners' Transportation Company, and that it has been in communication with the captain of the steamship Gloucester, which was taking the passengers off the Fairfax, and that he reported that the Greedian had not sunk.

Dr. R. McNeil, of Baltimore, made vice-president and general superintendent of the Merchants' & Miners' Line, was aboard the Fairfax and he sent the following message to the company office here: "Eight injured. Delayed by 7.3. Expect to arrive 4:15 daylight tomorrow."

A LOOSE ENUMERATION

The danger in the preparation of the voters' lists for the Federal election of July 23 is not so much in respect to the many omissions there must be but because of what appears to be a certainty that persons not qualified to vote will be given the opportunity of exercising the franchise. Instead of having learned by the lessons of the past the Federal Government has framed an Act—under which the present enumeration is being made—that is loose, that gives loopholes for abuse of the ballot and that affords nothing in the nature of an adequate check on the qualifications of those seeking registration.

Through the house to house canvass names are being secured in a pell-mell fashion. It is not necessary for those who are entered on the list to give their names in person. Apparently, in many cases, no queries are put as to citizenship. There have been times when the question of establishing a residential qualification is ignored by the enumerators. The assumption is that the enumeration is resolving itself into one very largely of adult population without any particular reference to any other qualification than that of adulthood as constituting the privilege of exercising the franchise. The methods adopted, indeed, afford the opportunity in a unique manner for plugging the lists. There never was such a haphazard way employed in the past.

Mr. H. H. Stevens has complained to the Chief Electoral Officer at Ottawa about enumeration conditions in the Burrard constituency. There, it seems, delay and confusion have marked the entire proceedings. Mr. Stevens believes that on account of the brief time permitted for registration many persons qualified will be deprived of the franchise. He complains that the enumerators are not adequately coached in their work. He says foreigners of all descriptions are being put on the lists without being asked if they are British subjects by birth or naturalization. In the case of Burrard he points out that a whole city block has been overlooked by the enumerators. In a word, his charge is one of incompetence in the enumeration. The word "incompetence" is incomplete. What is being done is not registration for electoral purposes, for in such case there should be personal contact by the enumerators with those who wish to get on the voters' lists. The enumeration is simply a partial census of the population.

Any preparation of a voters' list should imply registration by personal contact. What is being done suggests that the law respecting qualifications, which obtained in the past, has gone by the board. The enumeration implies that there are no such qualifications as citizenship and residence. It would seem, indeed, that the word of anyone is accepted about anyone else that the person enumerated is twenty-one years of age. What a farce it is. The mystery involved in the motive of the Federal Government in having decreed scrambled voters' lists, prepared in a hectic fashion and of a character which are bound to be notable for omissions and the inclusion of those not qualified to vote. Unless, at this eleventh hour in the preparation of the lists, there are some sweeping changes it is certain that the verdict of the people on July 28 will not afford a true index of the opinion of Canadian citizenship on our political affairs.

THE CONSERVATIVE PLATFORM

The policy of the Conservative Party in Canada was admirably outlined by Mr. R. B. Bennett in his opening speech of the Federal campaign at Winnipeg on Monday night. It is a policy of the conservation of Canadian resources for the people of the Dominion through the medium of that protection which will mean the development of natural resources. It involves not only greater ability of the Canadian producer to meet outside competition, and its corollary the development of inter-provincial trade, but also the development of export markets. Such a policy means rapidly increasing employment at home. It is the one sure way of preventing the exodus of our citizens to the United States.

Mr. Bennett has, in effect, given enthusiastic endorsement to the National Policy of the late Sir John Macdonald, who first laid the foundations of the Dominion's present prosperity. He has elaborated this policy in the light of latter day economic conditions. Transportation facilities are to be kept pace with the growth of production under the protective system. Inter-provincial trade is to be developed by such facilities, including the provision of a national highway system. Empire trade is to be fostered by a plan based on mutual advantages. In the latter respect Mr. Bennett believes in "a sound partnership founded on mutual interest," for he says that "good business is predicated upon reciprocal benefits. That is the basis upon which a prudent man desires to negotiate."

Specifically Mr. Bennett, if elected to power, will see to it that his party fosters and develops agriculture and the livestock and dairy interests which are now so badly neglected. There is to be a stabilization of economic conditions. The St. Lawrence waterways are to be developed, by Canada, to whom they belong, and not under international control. Mr. Bennett pledges himself to the Peace River railway outlet to the Pacific Coast and to increased port facilities on the Great Lakes, Hudson Bay and the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. His party endorses the policy of a national old age pensions scheme, a move that would relieve the treasuries of those provinces where the policy now prevails.

The Conservative Leader has shown national vision in outlining the policies of his party. He appeals to no class or sect but to the spirit of Canadianism and to the national desire for the betterment and advancement of the people.

country for those whose heritage they are. Our people have been exploited far too long under a fiscal dispensation that has eaten at the roots of our prosperity, that has lost its population and made us the subject of foreign exploitation. These are conditions that the Conservative Party will change if returned to power. Mr. Bennett is to speak at a mass meeting here on June 16 when all Victorians interested in the development of the country will have an opportunity of hearing an exposition of the Conservative policies.

DUMPING BUTTER IN CANADA

The duty on New Zealand butter remains at one cent per pound until October, when it is to be increased to four cents, unless, in the meantime, a new treaty between Canada and that country is negotiated. New Zealand's farmers are now flooding this Dominion with their dairy product in the effort to land as much here as possible before the increased tariff goes into effect. The large shipments coming in from New Zealand are having a depressing effect on the industry in Canada. Every vessel from the Antipodes reaching Victoria and Vancouver brings large supplies. At Halifax there are shipments aggregating 120,000 pounds to be received from New Zealand within the next few months.

Saskatchewan and Manitoba have large supplies of local butter on hand for which no demand can be found. It has been placed in cold storage. The market for the product on Vancouver Island is being adversely affected by the large supplies of the commodity being received from New Zealand. In other words, the dairy industry of Canada is experiencing a lean time because of the unfair competition to which it is being subjected. The conditions, of which such strenuous complaint is being made, have been known to the Dominion Government for a long time past. Full facts affecting them have been laid before the Tariff Advisory Committee. What is wanted to remedy the existing situation is the enforcement of dumping legislation. The dairy industry of the Dominion stands sadly in need of protection and the Government is responsible for the straits in which that industry now finds itself.

The Glasgow Rangers have come and seen and conquered, leaving in their wake an invaluable lesson of how the game of association football can be played. In addition to giving a finished exposition they proved that gentleness in sport is a part of sportsmanship which makes skill all the more pronounced.

Great Britain is doing an educative work of more permanent value than anything that the radio or motion pictures can accomplish. She exports annually 32,000 tons of books. Her best customer for these is Australia; her second best the United States, and the Irish Free State comes third.

THE FAMOUS SULLIVAN BELT

With respect to the question that we raised the other day, as to what became of the ancient custom of awarding magnificent belts to heavyweight boxing champions, Ned Brown comes along with some information. The thing was abandoned, it seems, simply because it became too expensive, not in initial cost but in upkeep. John L. Sullivan, for example, who finally got possession of the most celebrated belt ever offered in this country, had a habit of hocking it whenever he got cold, or hungry or thirsty; and kind-hearted sportsman, William Muldoon in particular, shocked at the spectacle of so sacred a relic being used by jowl with pistols, spyglasses, guitars and other articles on display under the sign of the golden masse shot, were constantly put to the necessity of redeeming it. This ran into money, and in the end proved fatal. For Sullivan, the resort to the practice of prying the diamonds loose from their silver settings, hocking them separately, and then of hocking the setting. What became of the stones is not exactly clear, but the setting was eventually sent to the United States mint in Philadelphia and melted into 425 silver dollars, that being the end of one fine belt.—New York World.

BEAUTY

I have seen dawn and sunset on moors and windy hills. Coming in solemn beauty like slow old tunes of Spain. I have seen the lady April bringing daffodils, Bringing the springing grass and the soft, warm April rain. I have heard the song of the blossoms and the old chant of the sea, And seen strange lands from under the arched white sails of the ships; But the loveliest things of beauty God ever has showed to me Are her voice, and her hair, and eyes, and the dear red curve of her lips. —John Masfield.

Ald. J. A. Worthington Returns to City After Attending International Parley

IMPRESSIONS OF TRIP EXPRESSED

After attending the annual convention of the International Association of Parks Commissioners of the Pacific Coast at Los Angeles, and making a thorough inspection of the parks and playgrounds of the principal cities on the Pacific slope, Alderman John A. Worthington has returned home in Victoria. Alderman Worthington, who is chairman of the civic parks committee, was honored by the convention in being selected as the president of the Coast parks body for the next twelve months.

VISIT MEXICO

Following the gathering, Alderman and Mrs. Worthington paid visits to San Diego, Tijuana, Acapulco, Caliente, Pasadena, San Francisco, Santa Barbara, Portland and Seattle. The city of Los Angeles, Alderman Worthington said yesterday, was this year spending $1,200,000 on parks, the money being expended by the board of the civic parks commission. In addition, the sum of $900,000 was being spent this year on playgrounds in Los Angeles, the civic funds devoted to the purpose of the city, administered by a separate commission.

Alderman Worthington observed that modern dressing-rooms and showers which he inspected on his tour, facilities for tennis, football, baseball and many other lines of athletics were provided.

OPEN AIR POOLS

The parks at Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland contained open air swimming pools, and Alderman Worthington expressed himself as being much impressed by the large number of children and adults who took advantage of the facilities thus afforded for bathing. Modern dressing-rooms and showers were maintained in the parks for the use of bathers, and these quarters were kept in the best of condition.

"We were treated well by our hosts at Los Angeles, and were shown every attention and courtesy during our visit to the different cities," he declared.

The International Association of Parks Commissioners of the Pacific Coast enthusiastically accepted the invitation of the city of Victoria to hold its convention in British Columbia's Capital City next year.

Alderman Worthington said that the fact that he had been able to make a large attendance of parks officials from the cities of the Pacific Northwest at the parley here next Summer.

LIGHTS

As I walked out through town to-night dim phantoms flanked my way as mist-wreaths mingled, wan and white, with shadows, wan and gray. I saw a light from every dwelling, and with each light a smile! A smile, for every ray that came, its golden strength to prove, was from some glowing hearth-fire's flame, some lamp that gleamed for love. How could my way be lonely then, or aught but sweet and fair; how fear pale misty phantoms, when, with love's bright beacons there?

NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITIES

BL—In a Province the magnitude of British Columbia, with its boundless natural resources scattered by an All-Wise Providence from one end to the other, it is of course obvious that many of such resources, the greatest of which could be made the subject of endless human endeavor, must be left to the care of many generations yet to come. With such a task not dealing, but there are many others which our paid responsible Ministers and our paid, highly trained and experienced civil servants have first made their observations and investigation, in some cases, a considerable time, and the results of those observations and investigations have been carefully epitomized and published as considerable expense—your expense—in Government reports and blue books.

Now I have mentioned that our Government officials are paid, and quite rightly, and that the public's expense is also done at your expense, also quite rightly; but why, when you have all this information at your disposal free of further charge, do you leave our Government reports to remain on the Government bookshelves, the industry to languish for your co-operative support, and all the time labor calling on you for occupation, while, by your indifference—that's all it is, your indifference—your refusal to give them?

There are many lines of endeavor open to us which should be followed, and upon which the lines I suggest would accrue to one class of citizen if I referred to fishing; to another class, lumber; or again to others, mining or fruit growing, etc.; but what I want to direct your attention to now is sheep-raising.

We have our Minister of Agriculture, then whom few are more persistent than the Hon. William Atkinson in presenting to the public on all possible occasions the desirability of pushing sheep-raising to the limit in this province. On the first page of The Colonist of May 22 he is reported addressing the Melchior Sheep Breeding Association. He quoted amongst other figures $200,000 as the price received for British Columbia wool in 1929, and went on to state that these and other figures he quoted were for the purpose of stressing the importance of the sheep industry to the province.

From the Government Agricultural Statistics Report of 1928—also prepared and printed at the expense of the province for sheep and mutton. Is it not nearly time we tried to keep this large amount of money at home, employing our own men and putting the profits in our own pockets? There are, I know, several farmers doing all they can in sheep raising, but are you doing what you should know they want capital for extending. If you can't work you could make inquiries as to how you could assist them in the way which would turn out better than a lot you have ventured on the New York market the last year.

If our Minister of Agriculture is advising the province rightly when he stresses the importance of the sheep industry, it is not surprising from the earliest ages of the world that the fundamental wealth of nearly all the individual nations has been built up by the increase of their sheep flocks.

If I can help you in any way as to the position of various sheep-raising companies, I shall be pleased to do so.

BERRIES MOVE SLOWLY AS YET

NO CARLOAD LOT SHIPPED YESTERDAY, ON ACCOUNT OF WEATHER

Victoria Berries Are First From British Columbia to Reach Prairie Markets

No carload lots of strawberries went to the prairies yesterday from this city. The change in the weather from the day before brought in fair supply, but there was not enough to warrant the making up of a full consignment. Some went on in less than carload lots, but the rest carload will not go forward until Thursday. It is anticipated.

Tomorrow, with a continuation of the dry weather, should bring forward a carload of strawberries, which will be shipped to the prairies and enable the growers of Saanich and Gordon Head to make up at least a carload.

Yesterday the Saanich growers had some 400 crates which they placed in cold storage. The situation on the Mainland is not even as good as it is here in the matter of getting prime berries picked and shipped. Sunday and Monday, according to the information received from Lulu Island, there were continued rains, making it impossible for any attempt to be made to get any berries off to the prairies.

The car which went from here on Monday was the first one from British Columbia to go to the prairies this season.

Unless very exceptional conditions prevail from now on, growers in this vicinity place the crop on Vancouver Island at not over forty-five per cent of the average one for the district.

WILLOW'S PARK AGREEMENT IS NOW COMPLETE

Special Meeting of City Council Disposes of Racing Franchise Contract

OR WILL GIVE MAY-AREFUL SCRUTINY

At a meeting of the City Council at the Colwood Park Council chambers finally reached at Association with the city held a special meeting on, and the city yesterday afternoon decided to draw up a solicitor to instruct an emboldening for signing a contract racing association's franchise at the Colwood Park is to be extended for ten years, in return for an expenditure of $30,000 on a new grandstand. Other improvements at the park, Mayor Anson, however, has not yet decided to the council and representatives of the association who were present, that, after the agreement had been signed for the association, he would go over it, scrutinizing it carefully, and although he did not anticipate that he would find anything in it unsatisfactory, yet, if he did so, he would call a meeting of the council for its consideration.

DATES OF MEETS

When the meeting opened the only contentious clause of importance remaining to be disposed of was Clause 6, governing the dates on which race meetings are to be held. This was finally adopted as follows:

"Subject to strikes of horsemen, and upon satisfactory proof of such submitted to the manager or secretary-treasurer for the time being of the British Columbia Agricultural Association, and subject to any regulation or regulations of the Dominion or Provincial Government prohibiting or preventing the importation or transportation of horses to Victoria by reason of

Mr. G. G. McGeer, K.C., Accepts Nomination

VANCOUVER, June 10.—Mr. G. G. McGeer, K.C., has accepted the nomination tendered by the Liberals of the Fraser Valley, and will be a candidate in that constituency in the forthcoming Federal elections, he announced today.

When the nomination was tendered some time ago, Mr. McGeer reserved his decision, but following a meeting of the Farmers' Organization at Mission on Monday evening, at which delegates agreed to join with the Liberals in the nomination, he decided to accept.

PLEADS FOR COMPLETION OF HIGHWAY

Mr. J. Islay Mutter, of Port Renfrew, Appeals to Authorities to Improve Communications

ECONOMIC VALUE OF DEVELOPMENT

Mr. J. Islay Mutter, who is identified with the development of Port Renfrew at present, is in Victoria for a time. He is enthusiastic over the proposal of giving to Victoria connection by means of a good road with Port Renfrew and then on to the other points along the West Coast. In the opinion of Mr. Mutter there is nothing that would spell greater progress to this city and to the whole Island than such action.

In the opinion of Mr. Mutter it would well repay the province to obtain the necessary money to complete this road without loss of time.

In advocating the construction of the road he says that at Sombriv River, en route, there are placer beds which would repay working if there were a road in existence over which the necessary machinery could be transported to the ground.

Another point which warrants connection is that of Providence Cove, where there is a wonderful growth of sea grasses exceeding the varieties found almost anywhere else. At this point, he says, the Philadelphia University maintained a station for studying the botanical life and the other branches of biology, but the plant has now fallen into disuse, owing to the difficulty in reaching it and of getting supplies in. This, he says, would be restarted if the road were constructed, and would mean much to the Island in an educational research line.

It is argued by Mr. Mutter that only five miles of construction of railway would be needed to connect the existing railways operating in the vicinity of Lake Cowichan with the logging railway of the Island gauge from the vicinity of Port Renfrew.

This, he explains, means that there is an opening in the way of transportation from the Pacific Ocean, which would shorten the distance and the time in reaching the Mainland and reaching the present lines of travel.

ORGANIZATION IS ESTABLISHED

Victoria Music Teachers' Association Comes Into Being as a Permanent Professional Body

After a period of quiet organization, the Victoria Music Teachers' Association has been formally organized. Its objects are the improvement of the status of the music teacher, with provincial registration ultimately in view, the promotion of high ideals in the profession and the formation of a strong body of reputable professional influence. Two meetings of members have been held, at which much interesting discussion has taken place, and useful work accomplished. A further meeting will be held towards the end of June. Meanwhile, an executive is making all necessary preparations for presenting the final constitution and by-laws to the provincial registration authority in September, when a good programme for the Fall session will be announced. Any teachers desirous of coming in as charter members should make early application to the secretary, Mr. C. H. Simpson, 2533 Fernwood Road. The present provisional executive consists of: Dr. J. E. Watson, president; Mrs. McGovern, vice-president; Mrs. Owen Harper, treasurer; Mr. C. H. Simpson, secretary; Mr. McLeod, Jameson, Mrs. R. Baird, Messrs. O. Jennings Burnett, O. R. Stout and Henry McCleary.

Expeditions This Summer Into N.W. Territories Set

OTTAWA, June 10.—A number of expeditions are set out this summer into the Northwest Territories, their purpose differing in many respects.

The relief grazing facilities of the Hudson Bay hinterland, between Chefield Inlet and the Churchill River will claim the services of Mr. E. Porritt, who in company with his brother, Mr. R. T. Porritt, has been in the territory for some time.

WHO ARE THE FITTEST IN SUMMER? Strange idea arising from habit direct the feeling practices of 99 per cent of the people. They do not distinguish between the food needs of hot and cold seasons, a case of much sickness. They eat starches, sugars and fats in August as in February, and suffer when winter comes. All such foods are acid-forming, and acid burns us out, deprives us of life.

Alkaline (pH-alk) foods are cooling, sedative. The only alkaline foods are vegetables, fruits, milk, almonds, eggs, yolk and Roman Meal, the last being the only alkaline grain sold in the market. Roman Meal should replace all starchy cereals, especially in hot weather. It can be eaten uncooked or cooked in five minutes or served with the ice. Roman Meal porridge is cooling because it does not cause "acid burn." Write for free sample and for free booklet, "HOW TO KEEP WELL," to ROBT. O. JACKSON, 2115 Vine Ave., Toronto 9, Ont. (Adv.)

Court of Appeal Victoria Sittings

Rex (R) vs. Larsen (A)—In this case, appellant, who had been convicted of an offence, appeared in person, and stated that he wished to abandon the appeal. The Court of Appeal, therefore, dismissed the appeal. Mr. W. M. MacKay for the Crown.

Ruff (A) vs. Sutherland and Moss (R)—The hearing of this appeal was continued yesterday. Appellant claimed damages for injuries alleged to have been caused by the negligent driving of Moss. Respondents counter-claimed for damages. The trial judge was not satisfied that either party had made out a case, and dismissed both the claim and the counter-claim. The Court of Appeal reversed judgment. Miss E. L. Patterson for appellant; Mr. A. Bull for respondent.

Evans (R) vs. Hudson's Bay Co. (A)—Respondent, an employee of appellant, fell through the guard rail of a staircase at appellant's premises where she was employed. She suffered damages for which she sued appellant. She knew of the alleged dangerous condition of the staircase and did not complain of it to appellant. The trial judge held that respondent must establish circumstances from which it may be fairly inferred that there was a reasonable probability that the accident resulted from the absence of some precaution on appellant's part. An employer who takes all the precautions that a man of ordinary prudence and skill and exercising foresight would use to avert danger would not be responsible if he omitted to adopt all the most up-to-date inventions provided he furnished reasonable and proper appliances. He is not an insurer of an employee's safety. Conversely, the employee is not an insurer of the employer's plant. It was necessary to decide whether appellant had been negligent in the exercise of its duty with regard to the staircase. Appellant contended that respondent knew of the risk and therefore could not hold it responsible for the resulting accident. At the trial of the action the jury brought in a verdict for respondent.

The Court of Appeal dismissed the appeal. Mr. Alfred Bull for appellant; Mr. H. R. Bray for respondent.

Jones (A) vs. Ryder (R)—Appellant and his associates were owners of a large tract of land in the County of Yale, and had mortgaged it to respondent. They also owned other property, including a hotel, which were not included in the mortgage. Respondent commenced an action for foreclosure. It appeared that the property would be more easily sold if the unmortgaged property were included, and an effort was made to purchase the latter property. The foreclosure action was not proceeded with for some time, and a settlement was reached. It was arranged that the property should be redeemed from tax sale and the unmortgaged property should be vested in respondent. A final arrangement was entered into and made a judgment of the court. It was a term of the judgment that the property should be sold by respondent, appellant and his associates, subject to certain terms, should receive out of the purchase price a specific sum of money. Prior to the settlement, appellant had been receiving the rentals from the hotel and he continued to receive the same after the settlement. About two years after the settlement, respondent, having given an option upon the property, which was exercised by respondent, sought to receive no further rentals. The purchaser under the option was unable to make his payments and the sale fell through. Appellant brought the action for a declaration that he was entitled to the rents and profits of the hotel premises until the property was sold and he had received the specific amount provided for in the decree, basing his claim upon an alleged verbal agreement made during discussions with respondent. The trial judge held that appellant had failed to discharge the onus of proving the verbal agreement. The arrangement was held to remain in the hotel and receive the rentals was a voluntary one on respondent's part, who never intended to enter into a binding agreement such as was alleged. The action was dismissed. The hearing of the appeal is proceeding. Mr. J. B. Cleary for appellant; Mr. R. M. Macdonald for respondent.

CHICAGO, June 10.—One of the greatest murder hunts Chicago ever has seen was organized today.

Police, state's attorney's men, private detectives and the organized power of the press joined to track down the man who killed Mr. Alfred "Jake" Lingle, thirty-eight-year-old reporter for The Tribune, yesterday.

Rewards totaling $30,000 were posted—$25,000 by The Tribune and $5,000 by The Chicago Evening Post. The Press Club of Chicago issued a statement that it stood ready to post an additional $10,000.

Two hundred or more persons were within a few feet of Mr. Lingle when he was shot down at 1:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, yet the slayer not only escaped but left witnesses with a confusion of stories as to just what happened.

REVISIT MURDER SCENE
Early today the investigators revisited the murder scene—the subway that dips under Michigan Boulevard at Randolph Street and leads to the Illinois Central station. They wanted to recheck every possible means of escape that the slayer may have taken. They sought to learn whether some clue, previously overlooked, might be revealed.

Already they had the killer's gun, a pocket revolver of 38 calibre, and they had the black silk glove worn by the killer to prevent tell-tale fingerprints being left on the pistol butt. That was about all.

Mr. Lingle is the first newspaperman, The Tribune pointed out, to be murdered since Mr. Donor Mellet, Canton, O., editor, was slain in July, 1926, following his crusade against gangsters there. Mr. Lingle's eighteen years as a Tribune reporter have been devoted largely to police reporting and investigation, a job that brought him into contact with most of the "big shot" gangsters of Chicago. He was well acquainted with Al "Scarface" Capone, among others, and once was entertained at the Capone home in Miami.

TRACKS DOWN ROBBERS
Mr. Lingle was instrumental in tracking down eight robbers over a period of years for Mr. Arthur Cutten, prominent grain trader and personal friend. Mr. Cutten sought the aid of Mr. Lingle, who was credited with the work which eventually landed eight of the criminals in prison. The ninth was expected to be captured shortly.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL
OSHAWA, Ont., June 10.—William "Orison" Morrison, charged with the murder of his wife, Annie Morrison, was committed for trial by a higher court when he appeared before Magistrate Willis today for preliminary hearing. The most important evidence submitted consisted of a statement which was made to the police by Morrison on the afternoon of the murder, April 29, after he had been found with his throat cut, in a field northwest of Oshawa. In this statement Morrison told a graphic story of how he killed his wife following a quarrel over another man.

BOARD OF TRADE COMMITTEE AT NANAIMO MAKES RECOMMENDATION

Mayor Webb, of Winnipeg, Promises to Address Board in the Autumn

NANAIMO, June 10.—Owing to the absence of the president, Mr. Comman, Mr. J. F. Doyle presided at this evening's meeting of the local Board of Trade.

Under the heading of railways and transportation, Mr. W. W. Mitchell, the chairman of that committee, stated that, after carefully considering the resolution passed by the Comox-Courtenay Board of Trade, relative to the proposed Powell River and Comox ferry service, that this board goes on record as being in sympathy with the resolution outlined, only if it would be economically feasible to provide a vessel of sufficient size and seaworthiness to operate with safety in all weather on the proposed route across the Gulf of Georgia. Mr. Mitchell said that some of his committee were in favor of waiting until Gabriola Island ferry was first inaugurated before any other scheme was gone ahead with, but the majority were in favor of the above. In answer to a letter asking him to address the board at a dinner meeting in June, Mayor Webb, of Winnipeg, wrote that he would be at the Coast some time in August or September, then would address the board.

On motion of P. Cunliffe, and seconded by T. W. Martindale, a delegate will be sent to represent the board at the forthcoming meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade on Vancouver Island as to the approval of the increase in fees from $20 to $40.

Mr. Leighton stated the meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade was to be held on July 11 next at Courtenay. The sending of delegates to represent the board was left in the hands of the president.

Mr. Pearson brought up the question of the unemployed, a matter he thought should be given careful consideration by the board. He went on to state that, if a committee could be organized and funded, work could be done to beautify the city, also relieve the situation somewhat. After much discussion, a special meeting will be held to discuss the problem thoroughly.

JURY FINDS A. EMERSON NOT GUILTY

Former Employee of Consolidated Motors Is Acquitted on Charge of False Pretences

WALLIS IS HELD GUILTY OF CHARGE

Stanley E. Wallis was found guilty, and Arthur Emerson not guilty, by the assize jury yesterday, after trial on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences on September 8, 1929, when a conditional bill of sale, signed by Emerson as purchaser of an automobile, was discounted for Wallis by Douglas, Mackay & Company, the sum of $1,295 being paid to Wallis by cheque. The jury was out more than an hour.

Arthur Emerson, a former employee of Consolidated Motors, was charged with the same offence, but was found not guilty. The jury was also charged with the same offence, but was found not guilty.

At opening of the trial of Wallis and Emerson, Mr. A. M. Johnson, K.C., appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. G. E. Housner, K.C., appeared for the defence. The charge against Wallis was that he had obtained money by false pretences, and that he had obtained money by false pretences.

Mr. Johnson stated that Wallis had obtained money by false pretences, and that he had obtained money by false pretences. The jury found Wallis guilty, and Emerson not guilty.

Mr. G. E. Housner, solicitor for General Motors, gave evidence that he had been present when Emerson made the admissions mentioned and had heard him make them.

Mr. B. Good, accountant for Consolidated Motors of Vancouver, testified that there was a connection between the company and Consolidated Motors (Victoria), Wallis' company, except that the former were exclusive distributors for the province of the cars in which Wallis dealt, and that it was from them that he obtained these cars. They had not shipped to Wallis or his company any cars under the agreement set forth in the agreement discounted.

At the twenty-first annual session of the Department Council Patriarchs Militant of British Columbia held at the I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas, Mackay & Company, those statements were not true. The agreement containing them had been signed and had been presented to Douglas, Mackay & Company in order to obtain the $1,295, which had been paid. It made no difference, so far as the charge was concerned, whether Wallis was acting for himself or for a company of which he was manager, or whether the money paid by Douglas, Mackay & Company would be repaid to them by another company, of which they were agents. In any case, Wallis had obtained the money by false pretences from Douglas, Mackay & Company. Emerson, by signing the agreement, had assisted him.

FOR THE DEFENCE
Mr. Stuart Henderson, for the defence, held that the money had been obtained by Consolidated Motors, not by Wallis, still less by Emerson, and that the money had been assigned to, and the money eventually paid by General Securities. As for Emerson, he was in the employ of Consolidated Motors and Wallis was the manager. Wallis had asked him to sign a paper and he had done so. He was not in a position in which he could easily refuse to do what he was asked to do. None of the money had come to him, and he had never expected or intended to obtain money for himself by signing the agreement.

Mr. Justice Gregory instructed the jury on points of law involved and reviewed the evidence. They were not to be influenced in their verdict by what they thought the court's opinion might be, or by anything they had heard of the case outside of the evidence given before them in this case, or by sentiment or prejudice.

MAYOR GREET'S ODD FELLOWS

FINE WORK OF ORDER REFERRED TO BY HIS WORKSHIP IN ADDRESS

Sessions to Continue Throughout Today—Presentations Made Yesterday

An address of welcome by Mayor Anson was the feature last evening of the Odd Fellows' programme at the Shrine Temple in connection with the annual session here of the Grand Lodge of British Columbia. The great concourse of delegates attending the thirty-ninth annual session of the grand encampment of British Columbia, the twenty-second annual session of the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia, and the twenty-first annual session of the Department Council Patriarchs Militant of British Columbia, expressed their appreciation with long applause when Mayor Anson, who is a member of the Order, paid a tribute to the character of two Victorians with whom he is associated and who are also members of the Order, Alderman Oullin and Mr. Landsberg, the latter referred to as "one of the best Odd Fellows the world has ever seen."

During his brief address the Mayor touched on some of the benevolent work of the Order, mentioning also its special character in admitting both men and women to its benefits.

After the greetings from his Worship the gathering repaired to the banquet hall downstairs, where supper was served, and the remainder of the evening was spent in dancing.

Two meetings preceded the Mayor's address. The regular meeting of the Rebekah Lodge No. 1 took place at 7 o'clock, when the degree was exemplified, and a presentation made to the staff captain, Bro. J. Davis, who was given the province of the Order in which he was acting. The president of the Rebekah Assembly, Mrs. Mary Knight, and the vice-president, Mrs. Agnes Merryfield, were also present.

At 8 o'clock a special meeting of Vancouver Encampment No. 1 took place, when Nanaimo Encampment No. 4 conferred the degree on a number of candidates. This ritual was witnessed by about 300 of the visiting delegates, who afterwards attended a chicken dinner served by Vancouver Encampment No. 1.

At the twenty-first annual session of the Department Council Patriarchs Militant of British Columbia held at the I.O.O.F. Hall, Douglas, Mackay & Company, those statements were not true. The agreement containing them had been signed and had been presented to Douglas, Mackay & Company in order to obtain the $1,295, which had been paid. It made no difference, so far as the charge was concerned, whether Wallis was acting for himself or for a company of which he was manager, or whether the money paid by Douglas, Mackay & Company would be repaid to them by another company, of which they were agents. FRANKIE GENARO RETAINS TITLE

Five-weight Champion Wins Decision Over Albert Belanger Before 5,000 at Toronto

TORONTO, June 10.—Frankie Genaro, recognized by the National Boxing Commission as flyweight champion of the world, retained his title here tonight, winning a ten-round decision over Albert Belanger, Toronto, Canadian champion, and former world's titleholder.

In the closing rounds Genaro scored repeatedly with a left jab and a hard overhand right that dropped squarely to the Canadian's bobbing head. The ring-side score gave the New Yorker five rounds and two even.

Belanger weighed 111 1/2 pounds and Genaro 111.

The show was part of the programme for visiting Shriners, but only about 5,000 found their way into the Coliseum.

The diminutive New Yorker took the lead after the fourth round, when he solved Belanger's crowd tactics and for the remaining rounds he was in control. Belanger had margin in the early rounds by forcing the pace with a two-handed drive that puzzled Genaro. After the fourth round Genaro's speed and cleverness began to tell, although Belanger refused to back up when the champion began sending rights and lefts to the head and body.

WORK STARTED ON NEW BOWLING ALLEYS

Building Will Cost $50,000; Will Open Doors in September

Parfitt Brothers Awarded Contract to Construct New Olympic Recreations Limited at Corner of Yates and Quadra Streets

Construction work on the beautiful new building, where the Olympic Recreations, Limited, will install twenty new bowling alleys, was started yesterday morning by Parfitt Bros. The building, which will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000, will be erected on the property adjoining Tom Lumsden's service station, corner of Yates and Quadra Streets.

Victoria's new bowling palace will face out on Yates Street and will cover an area 60 feet by 122 feet, and will be two stories high. The location is one of the most ideal spots in the city, and when the building is completed about the first week in September, the Capital City will have one of the most up-to-date alleys on the continent.

After reviewing the plans and specifications as submitted by the architect, Elwood Watkins, the officials of the Brunswick-Balke Company unhesitatingly announced that the Olympic Bowling Club would be one of the finest in the Dominion.

BEAUTIFUL BUILDING
The building is to be of steel, cement and brick, with a beautifully designed stucco front. The spacious entrance will have large double swinging doors of glass and mahogany with an illuminated canopy suspended overhead. An automatic oil burner will furnish an even temperature for comfortable bowling, and the floors, both upstairs and downstairs, will be covered with the very best and most sanitary material used in the best hotels, clubs and hospitals of today. A modern and efficient method of air conditioning will be another feature.

Special consideration has been given by the officials to the women's section, as it has already been proved that hundreds of Victoria's fairer sex will be enthusiastic players of the splendid and clean sport, just as it has been the case throughout Canada and the United States, where a bright, comfortable and well-ventilated bowling alleys have been erected.

Women's leagues as well as men's leagues will be formed, and, as the games comparatively new to the women of the city, it is anticipated that large number will try their hand. It when the new alleys open, it is hoped in time that Victoria will develop women's teams that will be able to give stiff opposition to the best in the Pacific Northwest. Mixed team leagues will also be organized, consisting of two men and three women.

EXPECT 1932 MEET
One ago the local officials bid for the 1931 Northwest Congress to come to Victoria were unsuccessful, due to that another city in the province had already asked for it. There is every indication that the 1932 meet will be held in Victoria, and that close to 1,000 from all parts of the country will be seen in action on the alleys.

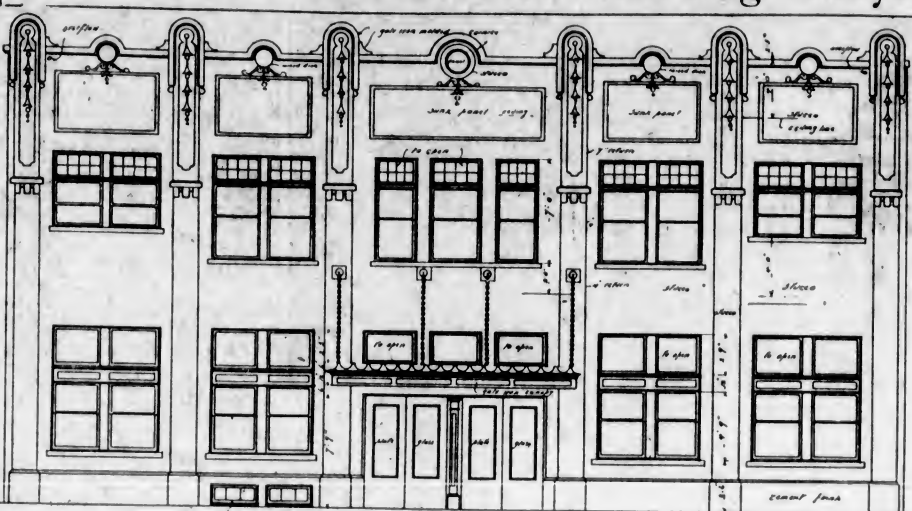

Enthusiasm in this new endeavor is remarkably keen and season opens early in the fall. The 1932 meet is expected that over 100 will be playing league games on the alleys.

Reference to the situation in the Northwest is made in the following editorial in the Victoria Colonist: "The Northwest is not recommended as a venue for the 1932 meet. The Northwest is not recommended as a venue for the 1932 meet. The Northwest is not recommended as a venue for the 1932 meet."

Marsh Gordon, veteran member of the club, will be out to defend the men's singles championship, while the women's title is left open, due to the departure of Marjorie MacFarlane, last year's titleholder, to New Zealand. With years of experience behind him, Gordon will enter the tournament one of the favorites, while the competition for the women's title will, no doubt, be of a sharp character, as the club possesses some fine exponents of the game.

Play for Victoria Lawn Tennis Titles To Start Saturday

Fine Field of Racquet Wielders Expected to Seek Championships on Willows Courts—D. M. Gordon to Defend Men's Laurels

One of the finest fields in the history of the club is expected to assemble at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Saturday afternoon, to start competition for the seven championships, which will be at stake. The men's and women's singles titles, men's and women's handicap singles, doubles, mixed and veterans' singles, will be the honors the members will seek. The tournament will commence Saturday, and the champions for the year will be named on June 28, according to the announcement made yesterday by club officials.

STRONG CONTENDERS
With Miss MacFarlane gone to the Antipodes, Hope Leeming, Mary Campbell, Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards and Mona Miller will be out to gain the laurels among the fair sex. All four have been wielding their racquets in splendid style in recent games, and some great matches are expected to take place with this quartette in the competition. Mary Campbell, former British Columbia titleholder, will be a dangerous threat, while the playing of Hope Leeming, Mrs. Edwards and Mona Miller will be closely watched. No definite word has been received from Marjorie Leeming, who has annexed about every title of worth while in the Dominion, as to whether or not she will compete. Miss Leeming is at present teaching school in Duncan and may be unable to take part in the tournament.

With several new members added to the roster of the club, some fine competition is expected in the handicaps and also the veterans' singles. Entries for the tourney will close on Friday evening at 6 o'clock, and all those wishing to compete are requested to place their names on the list at the clubhouse.

WHITE SOX THIRD BASEMAN BENCHED

CHICAGO, June 20.—William Kamm, who led American League third basemen in fielding in 1928 and 1929, has been benched by Manager Donie Bush of the White Sox. Kamm has failed to get started this season, and was included in a wholesale shift which sent Irving Jeffries to third base, Arnold Jolley from right field to left, Carl Reynolds to right, and Jimmy Watson to center, in an effort to add punch to the Sox attack.

Favorites Continue to Win in Tennis Tourney

Select Players in Men's and Women's Sections Advance in Kingston Street Club Championships—Thirteen Matches on Card Today

The full schedule of matches was carried out yesterday in the Kingston Street Tennis Club championships and play is now approaching the semi-finals.

In the men's singles, the favorites came through without much difficulty, although Hocking played rather loosely before winning the second set from Perrin. In his first set against Jones, Burgess was at set point, but could not capture the extra point.

Cunningham displayed his usual forceful game against Harrison, his hard drives to the corners and side lines being particularly effective. In the women's singles, Miss K. Harris made a splendid win by disposing of Miss Severs, formerly club champion for some years. Although Miss Severs played her usual steady game, Miss Harris equalled it by displaying unexpected consistency, winning out after three long, hard-fought sets.

Other matches in this event resulted in Miss Hickey and Miss Ewart winning their way into the semi-finals. In the men's singles, Schwengers meets Forbes, Hocking meets Barnes, the winners meeting in the semi-finals. Renwick plays Cunningham for the right to meet Jones in the semi. No doubt some good tennis will come out in these matches.

In the mixed doubles, Miss Severs and Prentice play Miss Ewart and Forbes in what will probably be a three-set match, while in the women's singles, two of the Harris sisters, Betty and Margie, will forget their relationship and decide who is to move into the semi-finals. The draw for the men's and women's consolation singles has been made, and the matches in these events will be played as the and opportunities present themselves.

The following are yesterday's results:
Hocking beat Perrin, 6-0, 7-5.
Jones beat Burgess, 8-6, 6-2.

Y.M.C.A. TO SEND STRONG TRACK SQUAD

Seven "Y" Track and Field Exponents Will Compete in July 1 Meet at Vancouver

TEAM WILL ALSO GO TO NANAIMO

Archie McKinnon and his band of track and field athletes, flying the colors of the Y.M.C.A., are going through their paces twice a week in preparation for the monster meet at Vancouver, July 1. Last night, at the Victoria High School grounds, the "Y" lads turned out in full force and showed up brilliantly in the various trials.

Yesterday Coach McKinnon received word from the Mainland that his team would be welcomed to the meet with open arms. Although not expecting to capture the major honors from such talent as Percy Williams, Olympic champion; Eddie Tolson, George Simpson, Frank Wyckoff and Tracey, United States track flashes, McKinnon is more or less taking his understudies over for experience, one of sport's most essential qualities.

The following athletes will probably make the Vancouver trip: George Aldous, half mile and mile. Chuck Cunningham, half mile. Art Bell, 120-yard hurdles. Cyril Connorton, 100-yard dash. Lynn Patrick, 220 yards, Junior. Len Nicholls, 880 yards. Frank Aldous, mile event. While McKinnon is in Vancouver seeking major honors, Vivian Shocmaker, boys' work secretary, will take another team of Y.M.C.A. track athletes to Nanaimo to compete for the Vancouver Island championships. Last year the local trackmen carried off the majority of the Island titles and will be out to repeat their performance.

The picture will be shown for the last times today and tonight.

FINDS CONDITIONS IN BETTER SHAPE

Mr. J. H. Tabor, of this city, has just returned from a business trip in the interests of the Kelly Confection Company, Limited, Vancouver.

Mr. Tabor left Victoria on May 5 and Vancouver on May 6, motoring through the Fraser Canyon, working the towns and cities along the main line of the C.P.R. to Kamloops, and as far east as Revelstoke, returning to Kamloops and working south through the Okanagan and back west to Princeton and Coalmont, then east through Hedley, Keenon, Penikese, Oliver, over the Summit to Rock Creek, Midway, Greenwood, Grand Forks, Roseland, Trail, Nelson, over the Kootenay Lakes to Creston, Cranbrook, Kimberley, Wardner, Eiko, Fernie, Natal and Michel.

His steps then turned through the Crow's Nest Pass east to Lethbridge, west to Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Field, Golden, up the Windermere Valley to Radium Hot Springs, Atholmer, Windermere Lake and back to Cranbrook.

Mr. Tabor left Cranbrook Thursday and motored to Seattle via Kingsgate, Spokane, Vantage Ferry, Snoqualmie, arriving in Seattle at 6 o'clock Friday night, making a drive of 553 miles in less than two days.

MR. J. H. TABOR

Saturday morning, June 7, he took the steamer Princess Kathleen to Victoria.

Mr. Tabor reports a good business. He said most of the merchants that he called on were optimistic over the future business of Canada.

The crop conditions on the prairies look good, and whatever the price the farmer gets for his wheat will be new-found money. Mr. Tabor also said that the Government work being done on the roads through the Rockies and over the Summit is making the roads safer for the motorist. The harpin turns are being removed by blasting, making it possible for two cars to pass at any place on the highway.

Star Wishes Elopings Daughter Happiness

MONTREAL, June 10.—Tom Mix, cowboy movie star and circus rider, today wished his eloping daughter all the happiness she can get, out of her marriage to Douglas Gilmore, also of the movies.

"I don't think Ruth has been very happy," Mix said, "and I don't blame her for what she has done. Many girls think it more romantic to scale the garden wall than to have things set and prepared. All marriages are hard made, and the only marriage worth anything is the one that is really sincere."

The star did not think it would be wise for Ruth's mother to have the marriage annulled.

"I don't believe in parents interfering," he said.

Important Mission

WARSAW, June 10.—Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy, who arrived here last night, left by special train today for Druskienniki on the Polish-Lithuanian frontier, where Marshal Haj Pilsudski is now stopping.

Foreign Minister Grandi's insistence upon seeing the marshal has led political circles to think that he has some important mission.

The Story Behind the Play

By J. J. GELLER

There was a time in America when only a few dramatists depended upon the writing of plays as their sole source of income. The majority of the playwrights drew upon some more lucrative profession than the drama. The fact that Bartley Campbell had been a successful journalist is all the more remarkable when we learn that he turned to plays for a livelihood. True, there were scores of Americans who wrote plays, but this was merely a side issue with them. Campbell set himself resolutely and boldly for that one task and left a record of some twenty-odd plays.

Jews. The stories had been gradually seeping into America, and an editor engaged Cable to journey to Russia and ascertain the truth. Cable made a thorough investigation of the charges involving the Romanoff regime. His report more than substantiated the rumors of tyranny, and it was printed serially in The New York Herald. Public indignation was aroused and served to discredit the Imperial Russian Government in the United States.

One of Cable's installments recorded the systematic persecution of the Jews, who suffered for their religious belief. These reports of

Not a single point in the West reported even a trace of rain today to meteorological headquarters at Winnipeg, and forecasts offered no hope of relief. Fair and still warm weather is mentioned in advance notices for the West.

MANY OPINIONS ARE VOICED ON SIMON REPORT

(Associated Press)

FRITWELL, Oxfordshire, Eng., June 10.—Sir John Simon, during an interview at his home today, expressed pleasure at the prominence which the newspapers have given to the commission's report on India. He said:

"I think the novel plan of producing the report in two volumes, with an interval between, has been abundantly justified because it is evident the public does intend to consider the condition of the Indian problem so as to be able to form conclusions as to the recommendations which are to be put forward a fortnight hence."

"I want to emphasize that the unity of the report really represents this, that it is the work of my colleagues as well as myself, because we have all done our full share in producing it."

"INSULTS INDIA"

BOMBAY, June 10.—Attitude of the British press today to the report of the Simon Commission on Indian statutory reform was illustrated best by the heading in The Bombay Chronicle: "Simon Commission Insults India."

The newspaper, an organ of the India National Congress, says: "The report is infinitely worse than its critics feared."

The Times of India, leading English daily in the Empire, remarks that the unanimity of the report is of good omen. The paper observes that it provides a comprehensive survey and review of the people's conditions throughout the land.

Sir Phiroze Sethna, president of the Liberal Federation, said that reading between the lines he was tempted to believe that the recommendations to be made will be such as to give India as little as possible and to keep Britain's hold on her as long as the can.

Sir Chintamani Bhatnagar, member of the Bombay Council, said it was fairly clear that the commission's recommendations would be of a character which would never satisfy Indian national aspirations.

LAUREL COMMISSIONERS

LONDON, June 10.—London morning newspapers today devoted space to most complete summaries of the report of the Simon Commission on Indian statutory reform.

All pay tribute to the great achievement of the commission and emphasize the importance and high value of their unanimity.

There is some divergence in comment regarding the report. The Mail borrows the phrase coined by the Minister for the Dominions, Alexander Macdonald, and said that the report emphasizes "the inevitability of gradualism."

The Mail saw nothing in the report affecting the policy of holding out hopes to Indian extremists of early establishment of a dominion status.

The Telegraph also saw in the report the totally impracticable character of demands for solving the problem on lines of self-government at short notice.

Premier Venizelos Supports Idea of Balkan Federation

LEONARD TO GIVE VIEWS ON FIGHT

Description of Fighters in Training Quarters Over N.B.C. Tonight—Blow by Blow Tomorrow

A great pugilist's impression of the coming Max Schmeling-Jack Sharkey prize fight Thursday night will be revealed to radio listeners when Benny Leonard, retired undefeated lightweight boxing champion, is interviewed by Grantland Rice during the Coca Cola programme, which will be broadcast through stations associated with the N.B.C. tonight at 8:30 p.m. (P.S.T.).

Leonard has been visiting the training camps of the two fighters scheduled to meet in the Yankee Stadium. He will give a last-minute analysis of each fighter and may make a prediction of the outcome.

Benny Leonard established one of the greatest records of boxing. He began fighting in 1912 and won the lightweight championship five years later. Until 1926 he repulsed all contenders. That year he retired undefeated. Since then he has appeared on the stage and has become known as a feature writer. During his career Leonard engaged in 200 fights, scoring sixty-four knock-outs.

Leonard Joy's string orchestra will offer a programme of dance music during the Coca Cola half-hour, which will be heard through the following Pacific Coast stations associated with the N.B.C.: KGO, San Francisco and Oakland; KHX, Spokane; KOMO, Seattle; KGW, Portland, and KECA, Los Angeles.

Lively Rally on Stock Exchange Results in Gains in Many Issues

NEW YORK, June 10.—The stock market today received a dose of that dependable tonic, short covering, which revived its spirits and sent it into a lively rally. Net gains of 3 to 10 points were made by a large number of issues hardest hit by the recent liquidation.

Stocks sold 3 to 6 points lower in the first hour or so, regained most of the decline in a rally, slumped again and finally turned definitely upward.

Pressure against all groups in the forenoon brought out a large number of new lows for the year. Ralls, motors and motor accessories, and many specialties were weak, and Atchison, Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, Studebaker, Nash, Packard, Checker Cab, Goodrich and Firestone preferred, Bethlehem Steel, International Nickel, Pullman, Crucible Steel and Otis Elevators, among others broke through their previous minimums.

U.S. Steel got within an eighth of yesterday's low, but finished at 168-3/4 for a net improvement of 4-8.

SIX-POINT GAIN
American Can showed a 6-point net improvement. General Electric, American Tobacco "B," International Harvester, Johns-Manville, Standard Oil of New Jersey and National Biscuit closed 2 to 6 points higher.

J. I. Case, which had sold as low as 213, snapped up to 227 for a net rise of 18 points. Worthington Pump gained 18. Vanadium 10 and Eastman Kodak 4.

A substantial demand for the French franc, here and in London, featured the foreign exchange market. The quotation moved up nearly half a point.

United States Government bonds on the stock exchange reached new high prices for the year today as a mixed movement in the remainder of the list developed under broad-based trading.

Attractiveness of the Better Class Gold Stocks

Commodity prices fluctuate, but gold is the standard of monetary value and is always in demand. Lower prices for base metals, supplies and equipment decrease production costs and increase ordinary earning power of producing gold mines.

Add to this the multiplied revenue of Ontario's gold mines through expanding production, and you have an opportunity at current levels to make commitments at market prices averaging 52 per cent. below the 1927 high, and share in the unprecedented prosperity now being enjoyed by the better class companies.

NEW YORK, June 10.—Wheat market was dull and prices lower.

The decline due to lack of demand as to any material pressure.

There was some selling credited to the Pool at Winnipeg and also local pressure.

Buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline here.

Kansas City received its first car of new wheat, which graded No. 2 dark hard, weighing 50 1/2 pounds per bushel.

Heavy rains fall overnight in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, but had no effect on the market, although there was some talk of damage in Oklahoma.

The government's report will be given out at 3 p.m. today.

Chicago time, helped to restrict business. A Canadian report will also be given out later in the day.

Export demand at the seaboard was disappointing, with sales of 200,000 to 300,000 bushels in all positions, mainly Manitoba. Liverpool closed 1-2 to 3-4 higher, as compared with Friday.

Buenos Aires was 1-4 higher at midday. Little interest was shown in the corn, oats or rye markets, which were favorable to the wheat.

Trade was mainly of local character, with a limited shipping demand.

Country offerings of corn to arrive here small. Buenos Aires corn futures were 1-2 to 3-4 cents lower at midday.

Weather conditions over the greater part of the belt were favorable for the development of the new crop.

MARKET DULL, PRICES LOWER AT CHICAGO

Lack of Demand Chief Influence of Decline Checked by Buying Against Bids

DEMAND FOR EXPORT IS DISAPPOINTING

(C.B. Bond Corporation, Ltd.)

CHICAGO, June 10.—Wheat market was dull and prices lower.

The decline due to lack of demand as to any material pressure.

There was some selling credited to the Pool at Winnipeg and also local pressure.

Buying against bids was a factor in checking the decline here.

Kansas City received its first car of new wheat, which graded No. 2 dark hard, weighing 50 1/2 pounds per bushel.

Heavy rains fall overnight in parts of Oklahoma and Kansas, but had no effect on the market, although there was some talk of damage in Oklahoma.

The government's report will be given out at 3 p.m. today.

Chicago time, helped to restrict business. A Canadian report will also be given out later in the day.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The famous Australian singer, Dame Nellie Melba, tells an amusing story about Dr. George Wyndham Kennion, at one time Bishop of Adelaide.

At a public dinner at Melbourne a nervous waiter accidentally spilled the greater part of the contents of a tureen of soup over the bishop's nether garments.

Unperturbed, Dr. Kennion remarked in a sonorous voice: "Will some layman kindly make a remark appropriate to the occasion?"

An adjacent guest, a sheep rancher from "way back," promptly carried out the bishop's request with a fluency that left nothing to be desired.

CHAPTER IX

The woods were darker than Annassa had anticipated—darker and more silent. By moving slowly from tree trunk to tree trunk, never letting go of one until her fingers could touch another, the danger of falling into the swamp was reasonably eliminated. But every time she trod on the soft thick moss with which the ground was carpeted, something rose in her throat and stuck there until the treacherous spot had been left behind.

Fortunately, the clearing in which Dr. Cranston had the shack he called a home was soon visible, and she could proceed with less caution. Abby's throat about the five minutes, as she well knew, had been no idle one. Whenever a twig snapped or a leaf fell there came disturbing visions of the heavy-footed Scotch woman blundering after her. The thought of what might happen in such an event was too awful to contemplate. On the edge of the clearing she paused abruptly. There was no light. No feel of life in either house or barn. No stamping hoof. No stir of rustling fowl. The air of complete isolation was as unexpected as it was tragic. What sort of life could a person live, cooped up here, away from the world, with only a wood to look out on and a swamp for a background? Even the ponies were better housed; and probably better fed.

A sudden sympathy for the little doctor welled up in her heart. No wonder he was a bit touched in the head. A man of some education and of a certain refinement to have come to this! What trick of fate had brought him to seek such seclusion? What disappointment?

Her own worries for the moment forgotten, she walked over to the house, climbed the steps to the rotting porch, and saw that the door was open. Through its crooked frame the interior, or that portion of the interior disclosed by the light which filtered in through the one window, looked even more depressing than the exterior. The place was a mess.

Miss West laid her knuckles on the panel and rapped sharply. There was no response.

"May I come in?" Still no response.

"Dr. Cranston, it's Miss West. We're in trouble up at our house. You said I might call on you."

From close at hand came the rustle of paper something big and black scuttled along the opposite wall and up a sort of desk or cupboard in the corner. A cat, she surmised. And presently this surmise was confirmed by a yowl, the phosphorescent gleam of yellow, resentful eyes. Her heart had just begun to beat normally again when from the ceiling just overhead came a muffled tap tap. Twice, with an interval between, the tapping was repeated. It was a stealthy sound, and in those quiet moments, sinister. The girl stepped back to the door and looked out over the untidy yard, bright as noonday in the moonlight. Empty egg crates. Soda bottles. Tin cans. A dog house without a dog. The spare parts of many automobiles. What was there in these things to make one feel afraid?

At that moment, the veterinary, clothed as she had last seen him in his green frock coat and tall hat, emerged from the woods. She opened her mouth to cry out to him but the feeling of relief his appearance had awakened changed to one of uneasiness.

There was a woman with him. And such a woman! A poor, neglected-looking female, dressed from head to foot in rusty black garments that had neither shape nor pattern, but hung from her emaciated form in every conceivable length, fluttering like the ceremonial rags of a scarecrow. Even her face, oddly enough, was covered—a thick black veil, or possibly it was the man's silk muffler, had been tied in a knot at the back of her head, so high as to leave nothing exposed save a high and naked-looking forehead.

In a desultory, half-hearted sort of way this creature was giving the veterinary quite a tussle, fighting him with feet and hands while long, bony fingers looked more like talons than anything covered with human flesh and blood. Her cries were hardly human, either—raucous squawks, hoots, unintelligible shouts. As they drew nearer, the meaning of this extraordinary behaviour became apparent. The poor thing was either drunk or drugged or—both. Under no circumstances must the little doctor know he had had a witness to this scene. No matter how pressing the necessity at Bride's House might be, Miss West's sense of delicacy demanded that she slip away as unannounced as she had come.

But at least the question of Dr. Cranston's strange choice of a habitation had been settled. It was clear from the tenderness he had exhibited throughout, that the solitary shack in the woods had been selected as a refuge—a haven in which to hide a thing much loved from the eyes of an unsympathetic world.

The couple had by this time reached the steps that led to the porch. Fortunately they were too absorbed in their grotesque harlequinade to have an eye or ear for anything else.

The girl slipped back into the house and found, as she had hoped, that there was a rear door as well as a front one. In a few seconds she had put the distressing scene behind her. Excited by the incident, she completely forgot the danger lurking in the boggy ground between Cranston's house and the south pasture.

Flying on light feet, the narrow strip of woods had been all but crossed, and Annassa had caught a glimpse of Abby, pacing restlessly back and forth beside the old burying ground, when a tuft of moss gave as she jumped on it. If the branch to which she had been holding had not snapped at the same time, her weight could have been shifted quickly enough to avoid trouble. As it was, she found herself up to her ankles in what felt like cold, sticky dough. At first it did not promise to be so terrible. It was not until she made a move to get out that the real sinking began. Only an inch or two, but a rather ominous inch when one remembered about those plow horses. It was like all quicksand; the more she worked, the deeper in she went. Soon the mud sucked about her knees.

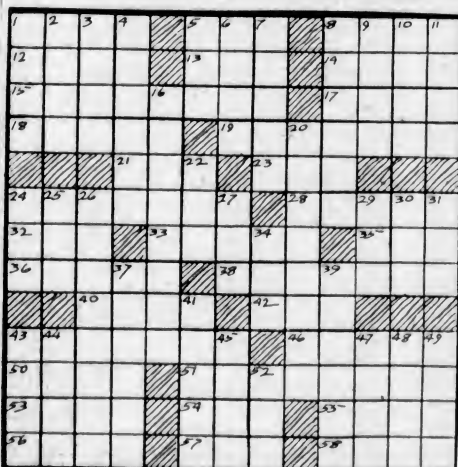

The situation, as it dawned, was too hideous to seem real—too real to be a product of the imagination. Darkness. The Unknown. A filthy, crawling death. And worse than all else, emptiness. Even the trees, once so oppressively close, their dim shapes aloof and impersonal, as witness in a death chamber.

"Abby!" she called, and knew the Scotchwoman did not hear her—could probably never hear. Only her body, from the waist up, was free now. Caught in this strangely holding vice, the rest of her lay in the power to move. And as her bodily strength failed, her mind conjured up a panorama of events from the past: the old house in which she had been born; a happy picture of her mother lying white and still in a bed of flowers; her first pony. The father who had taught her to ride.

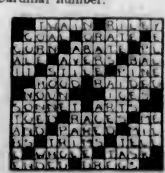

"Did you not see this happen to your little girl?" It was the appeal she had always made when a threatened punishment promised to be too humiliating to be borne with dignity. It was an appeal that had never failed. It did not fail now.

From somewhere close at hand came a deep male voice: "Stop struggling, you little idiot, and I'll have you out in a jiffy!" A pair of hands were thrust under
